

At the young age of merely four years old, Isabella takes on her journey into the world of dance. With an eagerness and passion beyond her years, she delved into ballet and hip-hop. Throughout her formative years, she worked on her dance skills, seeking opportunities in choreographing for family events. During her time in high school she embarked upon her journey of eight long years competing in All-American Varsity cheerleading as well as Folklorico dancing. However, it was during her college years that she encountered an entirely new realm of passion: Salsa and various other Latin dances. Fascinated by the vibrant energy in these dance forms, she commenced her journey to master their techniques. Now she finds herself employed at the Sonata Room under the experts of Laura Powell and Brandon Kwae, both renowned authorities in Latin dance, she has been fortunate enough to receive invaluable guidance and instruction that have contributed significantly to expanding her knowledge and proficiency.
